COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

THURSDAY EVENING, FEB. 10.

TO-DAY has been the first of the Thursday mails, and we are inclined to think that most merchants wish it had been the last. A Friday night departure, and a Saturday half-holiday to follow, would be all very well ; but an early closing on Thursday is the reverse of convenient, and so far as actual business is concerned, simply means two broken days in the week, instead of one. Before the end of the busy season most people, we fancy, will wish that no agitation on the mail-question had ever been started, as any disadvantage attaching to Saturday as a mail-day is insignificant compared to the interruption to business resulting from the new arrangement.

The general tone of telegraphic advices from home yesterday was quiet. A payment of £225,000 into the Bank of England is advised, but the money market remains unaltered. Consols are ¼ lower at 98⅜, French Rentes unchanged at 119½., Enfaced Rupee Paper is ⅛ higher in Fours at 81½, ⅜ higher in Fours-and-a-half at 88⅞.

In the Mincing Lane Markets there is no movement reported, and Seeds and Wheat are also unaltered. Metals are all as last quoted.

The Manchester Piece-goods Market is dull, but Reuter corrects his quotations of the previous day by advancing 7lb. and reducing 8½lb. Shirtings 1¼d., and quoting a decline of ⅞d. in Jaconets and Madapollams. These alterations are not of much importance, as Reuter's prices are only of interest in indicating the general tendency of the market.

Cotton in Liverpool yesterday closed, Reuter says, unchanged—Surats to arrive easier ; and a correction, issued later in the day, reports that a large quantity of Cotton was offering. The sales were estimated at 8,000 bales ; spot prices were unaltered all round, and Good Omra with the F. G. F. clause, January-February shipment, Canal, was quoted at 5¼d., Good Hingunghaut with the Good clause at 5⅝d., neither of which indicated any alteration from the previous day. Private telegrams, in fact, were decidedly steadier in tone, and messages received before the close of business to-day give the opening tone as firm.

From New York we are now in possession of corrected quotations, viz., 11 9-16 cents for ready Mid.-Uplands and 11⅝5 for May shipment. The latter marks an advance of 8 points, and the former shows, as we anticipated, that the sudden advance of ⅛ cent on the 7th instant was a mistake on the part of Reuter.

The receipts at the U. S. ports to date give the following comparisons :—

	1881.	1880.	1879.
Wednesday's receipts	18,000	18,000	22,000
Five days' do.	80,000	77,000	99,000
Total receipts since 1st Sept.	4,183,000	3,948,000	3,528,000

At the weekly biddings for Council Drafts on India in London yesterday the average rate obtained was 18. 7d., tenders at that rate receiving 18 per cent. This is fully 1-16d. better than was generally anticipated here yesterday, and the same extent higher than the average of last week's biddings. Bar Silver, in sympathy with the improvement, has advanced to 51¼d. per oz. ; and although our own correspondent says it was weak at that, private messages report buyers at the price. Shipments by the mail-steamer from Southampton to the extent of £60,000 are advised.

EXCHANGE to-day opened firm with an advance of 1-32d. on the strength of the rate obtained for Council Drafts, and during the day a further rise of 1-16d. was established in Bank and 1-32d[1] in Private Bills. The latter portion of the improvement was attributable in some measure to Calcutta advices, but the main strength, from what we can learn, has been derived from a report in circulation that the French Government are endeavouring to arrange, or have in contemplation the summoning of, another international Silver Convention. The French Government by their action have a good deal to say in the future value of Silver, but to push up the price of the rupee on a report, which, so far as we can learn, has only been received by one firm, is, to say the least of it, taking a good deal for granted. The feature which really governs Exchange at the moment is the extent of our export trade, and to adopt any other influence as a guide is practically adopting the doctrine of chances. France may summon a convention, and that convention may or may not adopt a report, which, again, may or may not be acted upon in the course of the next three or four years. In the meantime people who act on such a range of possibilities are not going on much of a certainty. Closing rates are :—

Bank Bills on demand	1s. 7 11-16d.	per rupee
Do. telegraphic	1s. 7 31-32d.	,,
Do. 3 months' sight	1s. 7 31-32d.	,,
Credits, 3 ,, ,,	1s. 7 31-32d.	,,
Documents 3 ,, ,,	1s. 8d.	,,
Francs, 3 ,, ,,	2f. 11½c.	,,

On Calcutta we still quote 1-16 to ⅛ per cent. premium.

GOVERNMENT PAPER.—The same report which has benefited exchange has also, no doubt, had something to do with the rise in the value of Rupee Paper in London. However that may be, there has been a decidedly stronger feeling apparent here to-day, and rates are ⅛ to ¼ higher, at Rs. 100¼ for Fours and Rs. 108½ to ⅝ for Fours-and-a-half. Sellers.

SHARES have been firm to-day, although not particularly active. In Banks there is no change. Colaba Land shares are Rs. 5 higher at Rs. 910. Mofussil Press Company's shares are Rs. 12½ higher at Rs. 370. In Spinning and Weaving Companies we notice an advance of Rs. 2½ in Oriental, Rs. 5 in Alfred, and Rs. 25 in Coorla. Morarjee Goculdass are Rs. 25 lower.

COTTON to-day has been dull. The slightly better advices from home have rendered sellers less willing to work, whilst buyers, on the other hand, have declined to advance their buying rates. Partially an advance of Re. 1 may be quoted, but there has not been much done. We call :—

Good Omra, March delivery	....	Rs. 212	per candy
F. G. F. ,, ,,	,,	....	,, 199	,,
G. F. ,, ,,	,,	....	,, 190	,,
Good Broach, ,, ,,	,,	....	,, 232	,,
Good Dholleras, April ,,	,,	....	,, 211	,,

SEEDS and WHEAT show no quotable change.

FREIGHTS are dull. For Liverpool 32s. 6d. might now be done by Canal up to the end of the month and by sail 35s. by wooden ship. For the Mediterranean ports a number of re-lets are offering at moderate rates, and two steamers are said to have been fixed for forward loading at 43s. 9d., payable here.

PIECE-GOODS are dull in the extreme. Prices are not quotably lower, but the off-take from the bazaar is on the decline, and cannot now be put at more than 300 packages a day.

COALS are unchanged in every respect.

SUPPOSING Reuter's summary of the secret correspondence discovered at Kabul to be correct, it is easy to understand why the late Government refrained from publishing the compromising documents now given to the public by their successors. If it be true that a treaty for an offensive and defensive alliance between the Ameer and Russia was actually signed, and not merely drafted, in August, 1878, there can be little doubt that the premature disclosure of the fact on the part of our Government might have forced Russia through very shame to endeavour to fulfil the binding obligations which she had entered into with the prince whom she led to destruction. That danger, however, no longer exists. The Afghan war is virtually over, and no one in Afghanistan itself now expects that Russia will do anything whatever to assist her swindled allies—to assist those whom she entrapped into an offensive and defensive alliance solely as the means of effecting a diversion at the cost of the Afghans in favour of Russian views and of Russian policy. It appears that a specific promise was made to Shere Ali that 32,000 troops should co-operate with him in the war. In November, 1878, doubtless upon the receipt of Lord Lytton's ultimatum, the Ameer wrote to General Stolietoff asking that the troops in question should be sent to his assistance, and the reply which seems to have been written was to the effect that the troops required could not be sent owing to the winter season—a transparent subterfuge, for if the winter alone was the obstacle, a force of some kind would have been promised for the spring. But the fact was, the Russians had no intention whatever of abiding by the engagements of which Shere Ali was the dupe ; and, as we know, the Afghans have been left to bear unaided the full weight of the resentment which their mad coquettings with the Russians drew down upon their country. We have heard on what we believe to be very good authority an account of the Mission of the Sirdar Shere Ali, since better known as the sometime Wali of Kandahar, to General Kaufmann in connection with the engagements entered into between the Ameer and the Muscovites. The Ameer sent the Sirdar to press the necessity for sending the promised troops to take part in resisting the invasion from India which had become imminent. When the envoy from Kabul arrived at Tashkend he asked for an interview with the Governor General, and after some demur it was granted. The usual compliments over, an embarrassing silence succeeded, neither the Russian nor the Afghan being desirous of saying the first word. At last the Sirdar, finding that the Russian would not open his lips, said that he had been sent by the Ameer to make known the condition of affairs, and to ask for the assistance which it had been arranged should be given. To this General Kaufmann replied by asking the number of

AGRICULTURAL SHOW AT WADWAN.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

WADWAN, FEB. 10.

The agricultural show, opened at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the grounds adjoining the residence of the Political Agent, Major Nutt. The visitors included the leading European residents in Kathiawar, His Highness the Raj Saheb of Dhrangadra, the Raj Saheb of Wankaneer, the Thakore Sahebs of Limri, Wadwan, Morvi, and a host of minor talukdars, girrashias, patels, &c.

There was an excellent show of horses, chiefly Kathiawar. The cattle classes were also well filled, and the competition was good. Some enormous oxen and buffaloes were shown, besides sheep, goats, asses, and camels. There was an exhibition of dogs, parrots, and poultry of sorts. Tents were set apart for the exhibition of fruits and vegetable, of which there was a very fine assortment.

All arrangements were admirably carried out under the direction of Major Nutt and a committee. Throughout the afternoon the grounds were thronged with visitors, who evinced a lively interest in the show, which was in every respect a great success. Major Nutt, the prompter of these shows, and those who worked with him, are to be congratulated upon the eminently satisfactory results attending their efforts to promote agriculture generally and the breeding of horses and cattle.

THE RUSSO-AFGHAN TREATY.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

ALLAHABAD, FEB. 10.

The Pioneer says that no treaty, as stated by Reuter, was found at Kabul. What occurred was this. General Roberts was told where the papers were kept, and ordered them to be seized. The treaty was said to be in a despatch-box. This box was found; but upon being opened there was not a paper in it. Yakub Khan said he had torn the treaty up; but more probably it had been stolen. Two munshis were produced, who said they had made several copies of the treaty. They were placed in separate rooms, and ordered to write from memory as much as possible; careful watch was kept upon them to prevent collusion. Their written statements were so exactly alike that the text of the treaty was practically reproduced. The correspondence found puts the fact of the treaty having been executed beyond doubt. Ameer Shere Ali was to keep us in play, so as to prevent any British army entering Afghanistan in the winter of 1878, and by the next spring Russia would be prepared to send troops. The declaration of war in November, 1878, by the Indian Government spoiled the scheme.

SIR HENRY DALY, late Agent to the Governor General in Central India, left Bombay by the mail-steamer yesterday. He arrived from Indore by the Jubbulpore mail-train yesterday morning, and put up for the day with Mr. Baker, of the National Bank of India. About 4 p. m. Sir Henry drove in a carriage and pair to the Apollo Bunder, and at once proceeded to the mail-steamer, accompanied by Mr. Lepel Griffin. Balla Saheb, son of His Highness the Holkar, the Nawab of Jowra, Moonshee Samat Ali, late Political Agent of Rutlam, and Mr. Venayekrao Ganesh Kibay, a well-known shroff of Indore, who has a branch firm in Bombay. All these gentlemen, except Mr. Lepel Griffin, came to Bombay from Indore to take leave of Sir Henry on his departure.

THE HON'BLE E. W. RAVENSCROFT, C. S. I., member of the Executive Council of His Excellency the Governor of Bombay, was among the passengers by yesterday's mail-steamer. Among those present at the Apollo Bunder to wish him god-speed were His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, Mr. Justice Kemball, Mr. Justice Melvill Colonel Willoughby, Mr. J. Nugent, Mr. Nanabhai Haridas, Khan Bahadoor Byramjee Dadabhoy, and Rao Bahadoor S. P. Pundit. It was ascertained after some delay that Mr. Ravenscroft had left from Mazagon Bunder, when some of the gentlemen who had been waiting for him at the Apollo Bunder went to meet him on board the steamer. A salute of fifteen guns was fired on the occasion of his departure.

THE Bombay Hunt meets to-morrow morning, a correspondent informs us, a quarter of an hour earlier than usual, in order that the proceedings may be opened by prayer The Secretary will take down the names of those who attend in time to be present at these matins.

A PRIVATE meeting of judges was held yesterday in the Judges' Library at the High Court to consider a proposal made by the Chief Judge of the Small Causes Court regarding the admission to practice in that court of those qualifying for the degree of LL.B. in future. The Chief Justice presided, and there were also present Mr. Justice Bayley, Mr. Justice Melvill, Mr. Justice West, and Mr. Justice Birdwood. Sir Charles Sargent and Mr. Justice Kemball were unavoidably engaged in chambers' work on the Original and Appellate sides of the court respectively, and were therefore not present at the consultation.

IT is not the case that Kate Bain has been returned to Belgaum. She is still detained at Hussunwud, in Portuguese territory; and, it is stated, will not be given up unless her parents go there for her. Her mother is an army schoolmistress attached to the 15th Regiment at Nasirabad.

SIR R. SANDEMAN, it is stated, will, after all, return to Quetta instead of going home on furlough, as the Government of India consider it absolutely necessary to have an officer of Major Sandeman's experience in Southern Afghanistan just now.

MR. NUGENT has been appointed a member of the Port Trust in place of Mr. J. H. Grant, resigned.

THE "general remarks" which sum up the season reports of the Bombay presidency for the week ended the 2nd instant are short but satisfactory: "No change; crops good."

OUR Belgaum correspondent states that His Excellency the Governor is expected to visit that station in March.

THE Kandahar News remarks:—Broadcloths and chintzes, et hoc genus omne, are selling in the bazaar under Bombay prices, the Parsiwan and other merchants being determined to realise, and transmit their cash to safe hands—a significant sign of what they expect when we withdraw.

MR. SKREFSTRUDER, a missionary in Sonthalistan, sends a contemporary an account of the disturbance at Kattrikund, 12 miles north-east of Doomka, on January 28, which shows that the additional military precautions were needed. A crowd of men abused the local magistrate, rescued a man who had been arrested on the spot as a ringleader, prevented the magistrate riding away by seizing his horse, and forced the official to write a cancelment of the census order. The magistrate ordered his gun to be brought, according to Mr. Skrefstruder, and warned off the mob. Eight of the ringleaders were arrested the same night by a detachment of troops from Doomka.

THE Khyber arrangements, it is stated, have been sanctioned by the Governor-General in Council, and orders are now being issued for the withdrawal of the troops.

REGARDING an important matter to dwellers in Bombay, in connection with which we published several letters a few days ago, the Bombay correspondent of the Pioneer writes:—Bombay smells have been made the subject of several letters to the papers lately, and as thus bringing them up may possibly help in putting them down, I feel bound to do my share in referring to them, unpleasant as they are even to write about. Whichever way one approaches Bombay, one is assailed by these unsavoury odours, and on arrival here they are constantly running up against one. If you dine at the Byculla Club the chances are that you get sundry whiffs of the main drain; if you are staying at Breach Candy or Malabar Hill you are bound to smell them drying "Bombay ducks" or using fish manure in the direction of Worlee; you go to the Apollo Bunder, and are nearly knocked down by the smell of a poisonous and useless basin in its rear; you ride along the Kennedy Sea Face at low tide, and you immediately become aware that ever so many filthy drains empty themselves into Back Bay; you walk through Byculla, Girgaum, or nearly any part of the native town in the morning, and I pity you. It is really a wonder that under the circumstances Bombay continues to be so healthy. We should certainly all be poisoned were it not for the sea-breeze and the wash out which the monsoon treats us to annually.

AN extensive municipal water scheme is on the tapis at Rangoon. It is proposed to form a large lake about six miles from the town, and conduct the water thence in pipes to the Royal Lakes and to other portions of the town. We hear that the iron pipes, which have been advertised for some months, will be tendered for by every large foundry in England and Scotland, so that it is to be hoped the Rangoon Municipality will get their wants supplied at a fair rate; and the rate-payers are at any rate to be congratulated on the change from the system adopted when a loan was required for the city, when the first offer made was accepted at a very high rate of interest, and without any advertising whatever or tenders of any kind being called for.

A BATTERY of artillery on its way to South Africa, while marching through England to the port of embarkation, met with an interesting little incident. Between Shorncliffe and Portsmouth the battery was stopped on the summit of Birch Hill, near Petersfield (Hampshire), when "party-halt" was ordered. There was, as may be readily supposed, a general feeling of astonishment on the part of the men. Further progress for a time had indeed been stopped by nothing short of "judicial interposition." Lord Justice Cotton, whose mansion was within rifle-range, and a relative of whom commanded the battery, insisted on wishing a hospitable God-speed to the soldiers; and with appetites stimulated by exercise they partook with the heartiest of relish of beef, game, poultry, bread and cheese, and beer—all of which Justice Cotton bounteously provided. An epicurean surprise like that by no less a person than a judge of the land is what may be called administration of justice as novel as it is admirable.

A GERMAN medical paper gives a list of some of the most notable instances where, in hot weather, bodies of troops on the march have suffered severely from the heat. During the seven years' war when Frederick the Great was marching from Marienstern upon Bautzen no fewer than 300 men died on one day—August 6, 1760—from sunstroke. On May 21, 1827, while the Guard Corps was manœuvring between Berlin and Potsdam, the men, exhausted by the heat, fell down in masses on the road, and the whole force became a mere rabble, some struggling on in vain attempts to keep their places in the ranks, others lying down and dying by the roadside. On July 8, 1853, at the conclusion of some manœuvres in the camp of Beverloo, two battalions were ordered to march to the adjacent station of Hasselt, to proceed by special train to Brussels; but before the former place could be reached so many men had died from sunstroke, or had fallen down exhausted by the heat, that of the 890 men originally comprised in the two battalions 150 only arrived at Brussels. In the following year a column of Prussian troops suffered in a similar manner, and during one of the marches of the French army in the Dobrudscha an equally great mortality ensued.

THE city of Glasgow recently suffered a very keen disappointment. One of its most wealthy citizens, Mr. John Bell, of North Park, intended to leave his valuable collection of paintings, together with the gallery in which they were deposited, to the Corporation, to be held in trust for the city, and to from the nucleus of a larger exhibition. Mr. Bell was a collector, if not as wealthy as Mr. Vernon, at any rate of equal judgment and discretion. Among the works he possessed were originals of Titian, Guido, Claude, Poussin, Murillo, Gerard Douw, Rembrandt, and Rubens, to say nothing of many rare specimens of later and modern masters. For Titian's "Ariadne" alone he gave three thousand seven hundred pounds; and it is believed that his collection cost him not less than two hundred thousand pounds. It is notorious that a collection, whether of pictures, or of china, or armour, or bric-a-brac, if it have any notoriety attaching to it, will always realise, even at a forced sale, at least as much as it originally cost the collector himself, if not, indeed, much more. The collector, by giving his whole time, trouble, and devotion to his task, is enabled to purchase cheaply. When, on the other hand, the contents of his gallery are sold, connoisseurs and wealthy purchasers bid against each other, under the keen influence of competition. Thus, then, the city of Glasgow saw itself in the future the fortunate possessor of a picture gallery worth a quarter-of-a-million or thereabouts. Mr. Bell made no secret of his intention. It was always understood that at his death the gems of art which he had gathered together with so much care and at so large a cost were to belong to the city of his choice, and in which he had for so many years resided. Unfortunately, however, it now seems that the bequest which Mr. Bell undoubtedly intended to make, and upon which the citizens of Glasgow have for many years confidently reckoned, is altogether invalid, or, to speak more exactly, has never been duly made. Mr. Bell's will appears to have been written in pencil, and to be without a signature. Dr. Marwick, the Town Clerk of Glasgow, has advised the Corporation that it is a document absolutely valueless, and that the whole estate of the deceased, including the pictures, must pass, as a matter of course, to the heir-at-law. Thus, then, the city of Glasgow loses a magnificent bequest—unless, indeed, it should prove that the heir-at-law is sufficiently magnanimous to respect what was beyond all doubt the actual intention of the testator.

WHATEVER may be the opinion in England with regard to the terms upon which peace with the Basutos may ultimately be made, the Natal Mercury, which may be taken as largely representing Colonial opinion, holds very decided views on the subject. "The Basutos," it says, "have deliberately made forfeit of lands, independence, name, isolation—all that a savage race holds dear. They will never be allowed again to occupy their present territory, except to be in conjunction with white settlers. So difficult a country for military operations must be henceforth within the complete grasp and control of the Government. The Cape Government has no Imperial Exchequer at its back. It has not an annual saving of 200 millions to form a backbone for taxation. This war will tax its resources to the uttermost. It cannot afford another campaign in a hurry. So far as the Basutos are concerned, they will probably have to move elsewhere, not altogether, but to the extent of a considerable proportion of the tribe. The land of strongholds must be made the land of homes, and the chiefs of the rebels must be replaced by the paddocks of the farmer and the stone banks of the dam-maker. The stubborn resistance offered by the Basutos to the approach of our forces is a sufficient evidence of their real design. They desire to be wholly independent—as much so as are the Zulu chiefs under the settlement. We do not say that they have cherished any insane idea that it might be possible for them by some combination to force the white man into the sea. But they do all crave—we speak now of what has been told us on unimpeachable authority—for as much freedom from the white man's dominancy as they can get. They have themselves to thank should the doom of total extinction now come upon them."

THE news brought by telegraph from Valparaiso—the Globe of Jan. 21 wrote—that the Peruvians have suffered another severe defeat, probably foreshadows the inevitable end of the war. The spot at which the Peruvians made their last stand, after being beaten and driven from Lurin, is Chorillos, which lies on the coast, and is not far from Lima. The defeat must have been thorough, for the place is now occupied by the Chilians, and the Peruvians have doubtless fallen back upon their capital. They will be followed there by the victorious Chilians, and what must virtually be the final struggle of the war will be fought before the walls of Lima. The vigour and rapidity with which the invading force has followed up the success won at Lurin seem to show that the invaders are in good heart and well supplied. Of course they have complete command of the sea, so that both Callao and Lima will shortly be reduced to great straits if a siege be instituted. It would, no doubt, be to the credit of Chilian humanity if, now that it has its enemy at its feet, it should desist from humiliating him further by entering his capital. Terms of peace might be dictated at its gates, and the "peace of Lima," so attained, would redound to the honour of Chili for long years to come. We cannot, however, expect such forbearance from the Chilians, now that they seem to have the prize within their grasp. It is to be feared that the last scenes of the war will be the most terrible of all. If it be true, as has been alleged, that the troops have been promised the sack of Lima as the reward of victory, the prospect is a very dreadful one.

NOTES FROM BELGAUM.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

BELGAUM, FEB. 8.

DEEN MAHOMED, the private soldier of the 22nd Regiment Native Infantry, who shot the three women in the camp bazaar last December, was executed yesterday morning. A very large number of Women attended the execution. The prisoner was perfectly indifferent to his fate; he laughed as he pointed to the rope, and he made repeated salutations to the crowd.

The statement that Kate Bain has arrived here is incorrect. Every effort in the way of obstruction was made to hinder our police in Portuguese territory, and now she will not be given up unless her parents go for her. This is hard for them, as her mother is at Nusseerabad in a delicate state of health. Efforts have been made here to show that it was bad for Kate Bain to go back to her mother, implying that the mother had an indifferent character. It is only fair to make public that her mother is a most respectable woman, a trained army schoolmistress, on the staff of the 15th Foot, an appointment she could not hold a day had she not a high character. The nuns have gone away, and the convent here, it is understood, will be closed. In the meantime Kate Bain is still at Hussunwud, in Portuguese territory.

Mr. Sheppard, the Commissioner, Southern Division was here last week. H. E. the Governor and Mr. Crawford are expected in March. The Rev. Mr. Forbes has arrived to take up his appointment as Fort Chaplain.

ENQUIRY INTO THE CONDUCT OF A BARRISTER.—In a paragraph with the foregoing heading our local contemporary was in error in stating that the local Bar had made a "report" upon the matter to the Chief Justice; that the report was "rather unfavourable;" and further, that it was forwarded to the Chief Justice for "his sanction and approval." All that the local Bar resolved to do in the matter was to send up to the Chief Justice, without any comment or expression of opinion, a certified copy of the evidence Mr. Capadia gave before Mr. Justice Bayley some months ago. They forwarded no report whatever for the sanction and approval of the Chief Justice. Nor did Mr. Capadia appear on Tuesday before a full Bench of Judges "to offer an explanation of the charges." No "charges" had been preferred by any body against Mr. Capadia, and his explanations were confined to statements he himself had made in his evidence before Mr. Justice Bayley.

The following remark is appended by the Health Officer to his return:—"As there is no allowance made for the increase of population, natural and extraordinary, during recent years, the percentages of mortality are unreliable."

GRANT MEDICAL COLLEGE.—Dr. Lisboa has presented a scholarship of Rs. 10 per mensem for proficiency in practical botany. Dr. Lisboa is one of the earliest graduates of Grant College, whose writings we have lately had several times occasion to refer to, as, for example, in connection with the question of the registration of births and deaths. He is a gentleman whose perseverance and energy have raised him to a high position amongst our medical graduates, and besides being a fellow of the University, he has lately been again re-elected President of Grant College Medical Society. In the midst of a busy professional career Dr. Lisboa has been able to find time for perfecting his botanical studies, and having learnt that many of the students at Grant College, instead of cultivating their powers of observation in the field or garden, found it more easy and convenient to pass their examination in botany at the University by committing their book to memory, it struck him to found the scholarship which bears his name, and which is intended to foster a practical study of the science, the examination for it being entirely practical.

HIGH COURT—FEBRUARY 10.

(Before the Hon'ble Sir CHARLES SARGENT.)

THE EAST INDIA BANK'S AFFAIRS.

DHURUMSEY POONJABHOY vs. C. A. TURNER.

THE Advocate-General, instructed by Messrs. Hearn, Cleveland, and Little, for the defendant, the official liquidator of the East India Bank, said that certain proposals had been made, subject to the sanction of the court, for a settlement of the suit against Cassumbhoy Dhurumsey on condition of the present suit against the bank being withdrawn by Dhurumsey Poonjabhoy, Cassumbhoy's father. It was not advisable to mention the proposals here in court, but they would be mentioned to his Lordship in chambers.

The proposal was to the effect that the official liquidator should give credit to Cassumbhoy Dhurumsey for a certain sum of money on condition of the present suit being withdrawn.

Mr. Inverarity, instructed by Messrs. Ardasir and Hormusjee, on behalf of the plaintiff, said he appeared to consent to a decree being passed in the suit.

The Advocate-General remarked that the official liquidator could not for a moment think of consenting to a decree; and the learned counsel did not see how it could be sanctioned by his Lordship. The settlement of the claim against Cassumbhoy Dhurumsey could only be considered in the matter of the East India Bank.

Mr. Inverarity said the suit must then come on for hearing.

The suit was adjourned until Monday next; the matter of the compromise to be meanwhile brought before the judge in chambers.

TREASURE-TROVE AT GOA.

IT has been known or suspected from time immemorial that extensive treasure lay buried in or about the Hindoo temple at Molecarjuna (Goa), but none would dare touch it, in consequence of a superstitious belief that instantaneous death or blindness would fall upon those who might sacrilegiously attempt to misappropriate it. A band of Goa dacoits once entered the pagoda with the intention of carrying away the hidden treasure, but they were so affected by the superstition that instead of trying to rob, they made a donation of fifty rupees to the funds of the temple. A dispute arose recently, however, between two castes called Mazanes and Nalcornis. The former drew up new rules, by which the latter were excluded from holding any right to the funds. The Nalcornis reported the fact to the authorities, adding that the rival party had a sinister intention of bolting away with the treasure into British territory. The Administrator of the division sent a military detachment, and the temple was surrounded. After a seige of two days an old Nalcornis, about 80 years of age, came to the temple and procured from behind the deity a paper in which the various treasures were minutely described, without, however, indicating the spot of their existence. The old man pointed out a place in front of the idol, and to the surprise of those present treasure amounting in value to forty thousand rupees, consisting partly of old gold coins and partly of various other kinds of specie, was dug out from the ground half a foot beneath the surface. Two descriptions of gold coins mentioned in the list, however, were missing, which on further investigation were found to have been taken away by two valipos (labourers) living some eight miles from the temple. Hither another detachment was despatched and the houses of the valipos were surrounded. A son of one stated that his father had died without communicating the secret to the descendant of the other pointed out a spot in an open compound, where gold orus to the amount of Rs. 3,500 were discovered beneath a loose stone. The news circulated that the Government had resolved to carry away the treasure, and the people assembled about the temple and with sobs and tears entreated the authorities to desist from the determination, offering security for the safety of the treasure, and even promising topay interest or a tax every year to the Government. The Administrator, who was personally present, addressed the people, assuring them that the Government have no intention of appropriating the money. He drew their attention to the danger the funds were exposed to, if they were left in the pagoda. After an solemn promise that a committee from amongst their own people shall be appointed to watch over and manage the funds, the whole of the treasure was removed under a military guard from Canacona to Quepem. It will eventually be incorporated in the public treasury.—Ultramar.

PARSEE CHIEF MATRIMONIAL COURT.

YESTERDAY a suit filed by Cooverbai against Pestonjee Pallonjee Colah for restitution of conjugal rights came on again before Mr. Justice Melvill. On the 14th December last before the Chief Justice it was agreed by consent of both parties that there should be a decree for restitution of conjugal rights, and that the plaintiff's father should provide for the expenses of a suitable residence for the parties in Bombay. The plaintiff's attornies (Messrs. Muljee and Bomonjee) having, however, failed to procure and file the consent in writing of the plaintiff's father to provide a residence at his expense, as was agreed upon on the 14th December, the suit was yesterday called on for final disposal. The defendant was present in person; but there being no appearance for the plaintiff, the suit was dismissed.

GRANT MEDICAL COLLEGE.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1880-81.

AT the distribution of prizes to the successful students of the Grant Medical College Dr. Cook, the Principal, read the following report for the year 1880-81:—

Before entering on the working of the College during the year under report, a short history of the origin of this institution, and of its course since its foundation, will not, I submit, be out of place.

The idea of establishing a scientific medical school for the education of the natives of this presidency first originated during Sir Robert Grant's Government. This distinguished statesman, shortly after he entered upon the government of Bombay in the year 1835, directed his attention to this subject, and after making due enquiries and consulting the various medical officers of experience and other functionaries in the several districts of the presidency, with a view to elicit a true statement of the condition of native medical practice in the provinces, and to ascertain by every practicable means whether there existed prejudices likely to operate as an obstacle to the introduction of a better system, submitted his proposals in the year 1838 for the favourable consideration of the higher authority. Lord Auckland, who was then the Governor-General of India, approved of the proposed scheme; but before this intelligence had reached Bombay the originator, Sir Robert Grant, was no more, he having died at Dapoorie on the 9th of July, 1838.

The untimely death of Sir Robert Grant was so deeply felt by the Bombay public that it was considered a duty to adopt measures for preserving his memory in this place, and a public meeting was consequently held in the Town Hall on the 25th July, 1838, at which, among other resolutions, the following were passed:—viz. "That a subscription be immediately opened for the formation of a fund to be devoted to the public commemoration of Sir Robert Grant, and that the Medical College so ably planned and so zealously advocated by him be established and bear his name, and that the fund collected by the above subscription be applied to the erection of a suitable building for the College or the foundation of scholarships, to be conferred after public competition on the most deserving pupils."

The late Hon. Court of Directors sanctioned the plan of the medical school as proposed by Sir Robert Grant, and authorized its being designated "the Grant Medical College."

The college building, of which the foundation-stone was laid on the 30th March, 1843, by the Lord Bishop of Calcutta, was completed in October, 1845.

The fund, collected by subscription, amounted to Rs. 44,800. The cost of the whole building, however, came to Rs. 89,000. To this the Court of Directors therefore contributed Rs. 45,106.

About the time when the plans, &c., for the College building were being considered, the first Baronet Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, with the liberality which characterized him, offered to pay into the Government Treasury a sum of Rs. 1,00,000, provided the Government would contribute an equal sum, and grant interest at the rate of 6 per cent. on both contributions, the interest annually accruing thereon to be expended on a hospital to be established for the relief of the sick native poor of all denominations.

The Hon. Court of Directors acceded to the wishes of Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, and the Committee which were constituted to arrange the preliminary details of the Grant Medical College were also required to consider those of the proposed hospital, and to point out the most advantageous manner of connecting the two institutions.

As a result of these deliberations, it was finally determined to build the hospital in close proximity to the Medical College; to designate it "the Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy Hospital;" to restrict it for the accommodation of 300 sick, just regard being paid to prejudices of caste; to close the then existing Native General Hospital on the opening of the new institution; and to constitute the professors of the Medical College the medical officers of the hospital.

The foundation-stone of this new building was laid on the 3rd January, 1843, with the masonic honours, by R. W. the Provincial Grand Master of Western India, Dr. James Burnes, K. H.

It was found necessary to enlarge the hospital in the year 1867, and subsequent to its first foundation three other subsidiary hospitals were also built in the same compound—an obstetric hospital, a hospital for incurables by the liberality of the Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy family, which latter establishment was erected through the munificence of the late Sir Cowasjee Jehangeer, Kt.; while two separate wards were also erected for the reception of diseases of a contagious nature, affording in all accommodation for 500 sick.

The College thus ably planned, and provided with its attached hospital on a correspondingly liberal basis, was further endowed with scholarships and prizes to stimulate the energies of its students by Government, and were subsequently added to by private and public gifts from time to time, until the total endowments fund now reaches the sum of Rs. 1,07,300.

There are now 10 Government scholarships, 5 Farish, 4

BOMBAY RACES.

CHRONOGRAPH WATCHES FOR RACES.

THE new Pocket CHRONOGRAPH WATCH, INVENTED and MANUFACTURED by Messrs. F. L. & Co., is not only the BEST, but also the CHEAPEST ever offered for sale.

The Watch had a marked success at the Bombay Races in January last, and also at the Secunderabad, Mhow, Meerut, and Calcutta Races, and Gentlemen connected with Racing will be glad to learn that a fine supply is again to hand.

IN GERMAN SILVER CASE	...Rs. 80
,, FINE ,, ,, ...	... ,, 85
,, 18-CARAT GOLD ,, ...	... ,, 150

Description :—The Watch is middle-size, keyless, patent lever, crystal glass front and back, going 32 hours.

There are two dials, one in front with the hour, minute, and short second hands, the other is on the back of the watch divided in seconds and fractions of a second. Over it runs the long second or chronograph hand. This dial is cut out from the centre up to near the seconds, having the whole chronograph mechanism visible to the eye.

On pressing on the winding nut the second hand will start from the fig. 12, on pressing again the hand will stop immediately, on pressing a third time the hand will fly back to the starting point. In a case of false start this peculiarity of the watch is invaluable.

We guarantee the watch to regulate within a few seconds in 24 hours, the difference in time for 5 minutes being therefore only from 0·02 to 0·05 of a second, a result impossible to arrive at with chronographs going only from 15 minutes to 2 hours.
